

Sing, then.
Sing, indeed,
with shoulders back,
and head up so that song might go to the roof and beyond to
the sky...
until life and all things living are become a song.

- Richard Llewellyn

Just when I was thinking I couldn't ask for more... in steps an amazing drummer, Jenna, and our violinist (this Sunday), Jen. And you all are right up there with them with how beautiful you are singing! Thank you from the bottom of my heart for all your hard work. Thank you to everyone doing SO much work on the Board and committees, and coming up with ideas, and reading, and playing piano, and all of details to make this a fantastic concert.

My heart totally melted at this last rehearsal to see you all smiling, showing such feeling, becoming the music, & singing your hearts out. This audience is going to be in for a very very special concert. (Not that ALL of your concerts haven't been-- I've seen a few and you always have always touched my heart!)

But just now, we all really need this music, these words. I need this music, these words. And thank you for sharing with me how much it means to you, too.

Our Nov 23 rehearsal:

5:00pm - Small Ensemble

5:20pm - Mrs. Claus

5:45pm - short warmups and then our program, beginning with pieces that feature our guest instrumentalists:

Time and place details for our tech and dress rehearsals are on our Members page of the website. We've also got the details about our Dec 20 Holiday Singing outreach there as well.

The Board and Laura Fouch have been conspiring behind the scenes to bring you a Bread & Roses RETREAT! Well, since it's Jan 31, the week before our next semester of rehearsals start, it may better be called a Bread & Roses MARCH FORWARD (in January, not March, though). So mark your calendars for Saturday, Jan 31, 10am-4pm, at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

We'll be sending out an evite to see who can make it (and help with the set up and up), and more details will be coming soon. This day is for YOU. It will be a wonderful time for us all to get to know each other better, to share your ideas and your vision, and laugh, and learn together! I hope you can all make it!
