

Harmony is where our voices become something braver.

notes from sherri

Especially now, our thoughts turn to loved ones... some are here beside us, some live in the echo of voices we still hear, and all of them shape the way we sing. My wish for you:

May we let ourselves feel wonder again — the way a child stops short at the first sight of holiday lights, eyes wide, heart open, believing for a moment that beauty alone can save the world.

And may we also welcome the quiet gifts of winter: the hush of a star-filled evening, the deep peace that settles when the air is cold and the sky feels close enough to touch.

In our singing, may there be room for joy and for longing, for laughter and for tears. May our voices hold one another, and may the harmony we create remind us that none of us is in this season alone.

Next!

Jan 31 - our B&R retreat!

Saturday, Jan 31, 10am-4pm, at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Warning: Attending This Retreat May Cause Increased Confidence, Stronger Harmonies, and Extreme Excitement About Next Semester

Top 10 Reasons You Absolutely Want to Be at Our Chorus Retreat:

- 10 Bring your folders and feel superior with early access to next semester's music (yes, it's only a week—but power is power).
- 9 The exclusive, no-filter scoop on the Sister Singers Network Festival (July 2026). If there were a velvet rope, we'd be behind it.
- 8 Section lines? What section lines? We're crossing them. Meet singers you don't usually sit next to — because harmony is a social sport.
- 7 A mini vocal workshop to wake up your voice, stretch your skills, and remind you just how good you sound.
- 6 A reveal of what's coming next semester: Teasers. Excitement. Possibly goosebumps.
- 5 A chorus forum where your ideas get the mic. Big thoughts, bold visions, "what if we...?"—this is your moment.
- 4 The Great Logo Shirt Color Debate: black? white? something bold? Something unexpected? Choose wisely—this decision may live forever in photos.
- 3 What is our Director thinking?!?: Bread & Roses is evolving, glowing up, and stepping into its next era—and you're part of the main cast.
- 2 Lunch. Because singing + thinking = hungry.
- 1 An exclusive retreat-only gift. Chic. Covetable. Unavailable to anyone who skips the retreat.

Attendance = legendary